MESSAGE FROM SPRINGFIELD POLICE CHIEF PAUL WILLIAMS

"We are now able to provide the Springfield community with the most detailed look at year-end crime numbers ever. The 2020 Crime Report reflects SPD's first full year of recording crime through the National Incident Based Reporting System (NIBRS), administered by the Federal Bureau of Investigation. NIBRS allows for a more comprehensive and accurate picture of what types of crime occur throughout Springfield, tracking over 50 types of crime compared to the previously used Summary Reporting System (SRS), that only tracked seven, and providing more detailed information about each occurrence.

We hope citizens and our community partners find the 2020 Crime Report informative. We also hope that by taking a deeper dive into the data, it will allow us to better identify trends and find long-term solutions."

MORE ABOUT NIBRS

SPD made the move in January 2020, in advance of a mandate by the FBI, which requires participating agencies to transition to the new system by 2021.

The previous system, called Uniform Crime Reporting-Summary Reports, was the national standard for more than 80 years. Under the Summary reporting system, if a series of crimes were committed in one incident (such as a burglary that ended in a homicide) only the most serious crime, in this example a homicide, would be reported to the FBI. Now, with NIBRS, every crime in an incident is reported.

NIBRS tracks 52 types of crimes in three categories: Crimes Against Persons, Crimes Against Property and Crimes Against Society. The Summary reporting system only tracked eight types of crimes in two categories: Crimes Against Persons and Crimes Against Property.

Some of the crimes now tracked in the newly added Crimes Against Society category include Animal Cruelty, Weapon Law Violations, Promotion of Prostitution and more. There are also several crimes added to the other two categories, including Kidnapping/Abduction, Human Trafficking, Hacking/Computer Invasion and Purse-snatching, among others.
